

What is Zika Virus?

Zika Virus is a viral disease that is generally transmitted through mosquito bites, sexual activity, pregnancy, and blood transfusions.

Zika Virus is known to cause microcephaly (small head size than the norm), brain damage/disorders, and Guillian Barré syndrome to exposed babies/infants.

Sources: CDC, WHO

Zika Virus

Protect YOURSELF

Sources respectively: newhealthadvisor.com; lifejackets.com

Did you know that the Zika Virus can be transmitted sexually...

Did you know that the Zika Virus can be transmitted to your baby...

Are you WORRIED?
GET TESTED!!!

Phone: (305) 324-2400
to be tested and receive a Zika Virus prevention kit.

Prevention?

- Abstinence
- Use condoms
- Cover Up or Use Insect Repellent with DEET

Signs & Symptoms?

- Fever; skin rash
- Muscle and Joint pain
- Headache

Treatment?

There is NO VACCINE yet for the Zika Virus.

Sick individuals should:

- Get plenty of rest
- Drink plenty of fluids
- Treat pain & fever with over-the-counter meds.

Sources: CDC, WHO